

You Were Here Today

This book was written to honor Susan (Susie) Swope, who passed at age twenty-two, and her communication from the other side still occurring today. Susie was determined that her parents and friends know that she still exists. Her message, Life is so much bigger than you know and so are you, shines through. Her love and compassion reached through as her parents found their way to healing and meaning. We change and grow, but we do not end.
