

Wife School: using Gods Word to build a stronger marriage

Do you ever get that sinking feeling in the pit of your stomach when something or someone captures your husbands undivided attention? Do you wonder how you will stay married when all of your friends are getting divorced? Has your marriage turned into a mundane routine? Are there days when you think quitting has got to be easier than staying? Lisa Ellis Williams has been there and shows you step by step how to renovate your marriage in Wife School. This interactive book gives foundational principles that Lisa learned through 7 years of separation and divorce. Wife School highlights scripture, uses personal examples, and includes guided exercises to help you focus on building a marriage that can last. Women often fall in love and get engaged. Being a bride is easy but, to be a godly wife you must be purposeful. After completing Wife School, Lisas relationship was restored and she re-married her same husband. Not wanting wives to suffer for lack of knowledge, she freely shares these lessons along with practical instructions for daily living. Her passion for success laced with humor combine to make Wife School the most fun you have ever had studying the Bible to learn about marriage. Your happily ever after is waiting for you!
