

Carolina sports by land & water (The Abercrombie & Fitch library)

To all who rejoice in invigorating sports, whether of the land or waters, the work will commend itself by the vivid pictures it photographs by the stirring incidents related the bright and genial spirit that glows upon the page nor less, too, by the novelty of the sport Usually, in works of this nature, we are constrained to hunt in a circle, pursuing round and round the same game through very similar incidents. Here, the scenes described will be to most readers entirely new; few will ever have heard of the great Vampire of the Ocean, that figures so largely in the sport. A word of him, so full of life and spirit, by whom these pages were penned. In the touching and beautiful eulogy on the late General Elliott, addressed by the Hon. W. H. Trescot to the legislature of South Carolina, the writer of the following work is described as one of many and varied accomplishments for many years a member of the Senate the companion of Pettigru and Grayson in the hours of lettered leisure the hero of many a woodland chase and the model of every Beaufort boy who for the first time waded into the surf at the English Bldg. Bentley. London, 1867, by James Spence, a distinguished publicist and member of Parliament (Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and do not occur in the book.)
